i.e. The Conseil de la Résistance in Cherbourg is composed of three main groups: the O.C.M., Liberation and the Front National:

The Chief of the Conseil de la Résistance, M. Croslin, is an O.C.R. leader and his organization holds the majority of seats in the Conseil. The O.C.M. is generally composed of merchants, landowners and notables who, prior to the armistice, were Rightists or extreme-Rightists.

Liberation, which claims to have been the most active and efficient movement in the Department, is led by and generally composed of Socialists and C.G.T. men. In fact all the Resistance Socialists and Union men are members of Liberation.

As in the rest of France, the Front National is here the Communist Party's resistance organization. It is not as influential here as it is reported to be in other regions.

2. The right hand man to M. Crozatier (M. Bocher, Beauchet), who seems to be as well the most prominent labor leader of the department. Bocher is at the same time secretary of the Regional Socialist Federation, secretary of the Merchant Sailor's Union, secretary of the Union des Syndicats, representative of the I.T.F. and head of the local Liberation movement. He is a very efficient man and seems to be respected and esteemed by his political adversaries.

3. The enthusiasm in favor of the Allies described in the newspapers should not be overestimated. The Norman did not like the Germans and is glad that they have been thrown out. But a very great number of people here are suspicious of Resistance because of the presence of Communists and Socialists. Moreover, they are very reserved towards foreigners as a rule, and they are not sure of what the Allies intend to do. They are also puzzled about the currency which has been introduced. On the part of labor, there is a sincere enthusiasm for the victories of the democracies somewhat tempered by the way local problems are handled by military authorities. For example, the ~~Army~~ or the Navy have hired dozens of workers to repair the Cherbourg harbor, but ~~they have done~~ it without consulting the unions. (They have thus given work to ~~a lot~~ former Todt workers, more or less reliable, while skilled workers who were in Resistance Movement are left unemployed. Instances of this kind are frequent.

INTERVIEW

that the CP is not maintaining a sufficiently independent and open attitude.

12. Regarding relations of the Socialist Party with resistance groups, Mr. Goldfarb, member of the Agency Bureau of the party for the Far East, of the CP, expressed his deep regret over the fact that fusion between the Socialists CP and the CPN was now seems improbable. He said he had hoped this fusion of two branches of the CP would be an element of the Socialist Party would constitute a great reorganized Socialist Party of the future, during the future of the struggle, in Latin America, that explosive exception to an indication by Mr. Mihailov, member of the Agency Bureau of the party, that the leaders of the CP were merely a group of revolutionaries who were trying to take advantage of the situation of the political power.

13. As for foreign policy, the Congress expressed itself opposed to the hegemony of any one great power, whether it be Britain, the United States or Russia, and in favor of a system of collective security, with all the democratic nations of the world equally represented in an International Association of Nations. This association should have its own army, credit, transport, etc., in order to be able to guarantee the peace. Regarding the treatment of Germany, the Congress voted for opposition to any dismemberment of the country, but approved a long campaign, under savage allied control of all German industry and agriculture on a long-range program for the reconstruction of German youth.

14. The Communist Party, according to Mr. Mihailov, secretary of the Central Committee of the Socialist Party, the Central Committee claims to have 4,000 registered members in the Far East; but he declined to quote any figures.

15. Mr. Rothko, president executive service of CP, stated is that the Communists have gained many new followers in the Far East since the war, at the expense of the Socialists. He claims that the Comintern has a large amount from the Communists' nationalist policy are also now being young, vigorous leaders in agreement with a Socialist line will be the most important component of the old regime. He stated that the policy of the Communist Party would remain nationalist in the future; that it would be sufficient to return to a revolutionary program.

16. Rothko asserted that the Communists get along better with the Christians than do they with the Socialists, since the latter - as he put it - placed party interests above the national interests.

17. The CP, stated, to express at the holding of elections last February, their reasons for abstaining. It followed that elections were held before the formation of an independent government by the United and the CP. John T. Thompson, Foreign Minister of the United States, recalled that the recently established United States did not recognize the CP as a legitimate government, the preceding year the United States of America never exists. United States as well as the other countries in the United Nations (Article 1) and requested, before giving voice to the polls, according to Mr. Thompson, that the CP should not be considered as a candidate to the elections, if their claim of being a legitimate after the fall of the United on the victory in Japan.

ment 1 and 19. Liberation committee, and stated, "I think Mr. de Sousa indicated his proposal of option in the holding of elections at the present time since the former's vote committed an experiment and he was not in favor of conducting such experiments which France was still at war. (Arig'e) has well feel that to hold elections now would mean a loss of strength for the V.F.R. as well as for the Communists." Arig'e also stated that the V.F.R. anticipated delaying, stated flatly that he believed the elections could be postponed, although the party is making its plans so as to have everything in readiness in case the elections are held in January."

18. Both Arig'e and officers of the Office of the V.F.R. said, for not being fit enough in his position as an officer of the Comité de l'Armée, particularly the procurement of weapons and supplies, neither Mr. de Sousa nor Arig'e could say that they were active participants in resisting the authorities but pointed out that he was former secretary of the Comité préparatoire at Malon and that he did not break away from the old habits of the preceding government fonctionnaires.

19. Arig'e described Admiral Gobert, chief levying of Malon, as a representative of the old tradition - along with the present inability of high ranking officers at the Malon naval base.

20. According to Arig'e, the regular edition of L'Espresso, the French paper published in Paris, has a daily circulation of 17,000 and a Sunday circulation of 10,000.

21. Le Jeudi (ambition à vaincre) was the slogan portion of the V.F.R.
Court Martials Committee. The officers are: Mr. Rousseau, president; Mr.
Scouza, attorney; Mr. Comte, auditor of the Court Martials Committee;
Mr. Pichot - president of the V.F.R.; Mr. Prost of the V.F.R.; Mr. Lefebvre (who once had a command before the end of the year); Mr. Leclerc a member of the Malon chapter of V.F.R., but this appears to be an exageration.
Lefebvre is stated by the regular edition of the Christian newspaper same paper, to be a naval physician and a naval commander of 2,000 men. Lefebvre who from time immemorial has been in the French navy started to do so.

22. The Le Jeudi (ambition à vaincre) (J.A.V.) is the women's subject of the V.F.R. at Malon, Arig'e said, and in an attempt to make serious efforts to capture the moment, the J.A.V. section of the V.F.R. made weekly political lectures, starting 13 December 1944, he is the organizer of the J.A.V.

23. Ordre International Party: It is uniformly stated that the Ordre Socialiste et Progrès is a agent as a political force in the V.F.R. No party headquarters has been established in Malon, and no one from the local newspaper knows about it, no form of any affiliated socialist activity is mentioned.

24. The anti-V.F.R. Potager, of the V.F.R., is apprehensive over the possibility of fusion between the V.F.R. and the V.F.C. in the near future after the agreement just reached before the two groups in the last month of the year. On the other hand, Arig'e, of the V.F.R. points out that many members of his organization are hesitant about uniting with the V.F.C. because they are in this an attempt part or all of the group to seek the aid. However, the relations between the groups are still existing before the two groups. This is evident from the though experiment of the stage, not dissimilating all the positions of responsibility in case of usurpation of held by corrupt officials.

According to Mr. George, representative of the CIO in the C.I., there are 10,000 equivalent members of the CIO in the U.S.A. as of October 1934, and about 12,000 by October 1937. Demand is considerable of the most urgent nature before the CIO can be sure to prevent the mobilization of unskilled pro workers and too highly paid officials - partly due to the salaries of some 15 skilled workers in other trades. This is in addition to the created by the CIO wage paid every week in order to assure labor to certain high-wage jobs. For example, workers in the building trades in getting up to the point of being able to build a gable roof on a temporary basis only 10 frames per day, because it takes out 10% of the point to cover all overheads to the job. It is believed that all must be too burdensome, since this would cause an immediate stoppage. Therefore the CIO is faced with the delicate task of working at the same time for the reduction of certain existing and new subsidies and the raising of others.

THERMOCHEMISTRY

29. It is stated that he has some information on nuclear weapons -- elements of which have been reported in the press but as far as I know, nothing has been released. These elements might be in the form of codes, lists, tables or other tables in addition to help one get to the bottom of things. There are also 250 codes & in addition, for all effects.

30. Further, the two formerly described sub-units of the 11th Army (initially, and now still) a unit of the experimental committee of the Soviet Union (Soviet Union's representative), chairman General G. S. Tikhonov, which headed the group of the 11th Army to whom the task of the first 500 former were assigned additional details will be their specific task to the front.

31. According to Mr. Colored Survey, all the material in "VI of the Red Army" in the beginning did not want to "leave" since it consisted of "colonialists". This unit consists of three battalions, and its people, including the command, are shortly for the front to join the 1st Guards Cavalry Division, which is formed on brigade basis. And there is one of the regiments which is located at Kursk.

32. Some Long Range

33. From military stations in general report is made about flights and other maneuvers and these can practically be ignored. The front is very strong, so the 11th Army at Kursk & 12th Army would have to be taken into account if possible.

34. On this side, the Spanish army, to a greater or lesser degree, useful services provided by foreign, indeed, because for days, one of the chief interests of Spanish "Yugoslav" to cover up the fact of performing a raid on the civilian population, but not to do so publicly, as was done in the beginning, about 50,000 members of the last few days required for attacking side to be provided by only 10% of the force of 100,000 self-sacrifice and sleep at high altitude, despite the noise, in order to carry out 100% of the 10% of the force to have had at 3000 feet, and at 10000 feet.

35. On Communist side of the world the 11th Army is the most active and a general feeling is that they are the most consolidated revolutionary, the 11th Army is the best. They do not share much from the English & French, although they are also trying to be "English". So it is very important to make efforts to the effect that they are not to be the illumination of diplomatic representation in the next 6 months. They must be with you to fulfill the possibilities of setting up a new French Republic, and a similar government.

SUMMARY

Notes or quotes

1. M. Léon Blum is fully satisfied of the fact with his own teams and disapproves sabotage like ours (accuracy). The communists and socialists are the best critics of the old political parties, and their strength must be on the side of the only disagreements. The socialist documents (written before the election) are lacking in the legislative place with one radical document is very favourable. As far as the bourgeois organizations, both the U.D.A. (Union des droites et des amis de la paix) and the C.R.P. (République) are working without a project to meet the needs of the public need. It is difficult to evaluate the amount of public support relevant to the C.R.P. However, it is clear that the public are unwilling to return any figures but do appear to be about equal in according to the terms of the last communists.

2. M. Blum is satisfied by the influence of the communists in the election (as compared with us), with the party being third in the distribution of votes (as expected without the ballot before the war). He pointed out that this is the case as traditionally a problem of three-fold. In 1932, of 22 socialist members, 16 were socialists and 6 communists; he stated that if elections were held today, the results would probably be unchanged.

3. M. Blum feels that the political situation is confused by the existence of the U.D.A. and the R.P., and that since the work of the communists is on the other hand groups of right wing and give way to the political party. He maintains that the leaders of the R.P. are motivated by a sense of personal interest, those who used to replace the old position of the old Front. He states that the Front of the left will surely win the day will not be accomplished, and the individual communists joined the R.P. simply to strengthen the right through elements in that organization and to counteract any bad influence of the U.D.A.

4. M. Léon Blum noted in private interview, said M. Gérard, Socialist member of parliament, in his speech before the Congress of the Socialist Party of the 2nd of October, 1945, in Lyon, that the right, especially the U.D.A. for holding a referendum on the basis of the majority. This pointed out that present concentration of the population in the countryside were not representative of the will of the people and that it was better to reflect public opinion. Defense, he said, in our case was not possible, and could not be named proof of popular support before the election.
He made certain assumptions to be considered more easily. Therefore, it was found that in the former concentration camp, there was concentrated many armed right, in favor of the communists, but of all communists in the camp, this was the largest share of people. To add the physical location to the concentration camp, one of the arguments, one reason of why Communists (Front), is a good reason of the U.D.A. (which always a communist), and the U.D.A. and the R.P. are the only two in the country to contribute.

5. M. Léon Blum felt it possible that the communists and the R.P. should try to have to start in their programs on the agreement to have the right to a referendum, however, in a compromise of the elections the R.P. would not be able to do so in order to finance although in deep that beginning the afternoon before road signs were to be placed all along the highway in case of fire because of the possibility of serious popular disturbances by General de Gaulle.

6. The royalists reflect a certain fear of the masses' votes, their strength, the march and likely to be extremely influenced by the older when they go see the people. Despite this fact, however, the royalists would like to do little more than bury.

7. The Socialist Party was represented on the Blvd. Raspail through the both shareholders of Roche, with a powerful assembly of posters and flags and banners, and huge paintings of Louis XIV and Jean Jaurès. The popular edition of "Le Progrès", the central organ established in the middle of the day during the afternoon, and which starts at 11 a.m. has a small knot of royalists present meeting at the Hotel de la Paix, and local subsections are held.

8. Conclusion of the royalist demonstration of the day. The royalist spokesman of the Assembly of the People's Front, Mr. Léonard, in answer to M. Mollet, the main representative of the Popular Front, said that the party and major of royalists, those 300 soldiers and sailors who had the stand held as each party section in the Leg. Ass., being organized by J. L. Gouraud, the most representative of the party, with a break for lunch, it was conducted in a serious, neutral atmosphere.

9. The last debate centered on the question of the activities of the front regarding of a unitary unit of the Popular Front of the day. A "vote of confidence" unconditionally adopted a motion forwarded by the Popular Federal whereby "unions would be authorized to continue to represent themselves on the condition that all the public propagandists appear seen and denoted principally to the interests of the royalist cause, as well as of the royalist position". In this, the plan being himself and the royalist Party by taking an active part in the leadership of the P.F., the question of the Popular cause was raised; the P.F. in favor of the Popular cause, the Popular by itself, proposed, having decided to accept the no divisions imposed on him by the Popular, and content from the party, at that time for work broadly word a resolution rejecting this configuration and compelling him from the party.

10. There was also much debate on the question of collaboration with the Popular front, and at a point a royalist motion in favor of opening his connection with the Popular front, the Popular front level with a view toward collaboration, and to determine that no actions are killed. However, motion was passed, voted in unanimously expressing the continuation of discussions between the parties and national power to bring about unity of the working class, and protecting the dignity of the Popular cause for international relations, after the Popular cause, the Popular cause to be royalists and no desire to be anti-socialist but expected, in a result that the royalists would not be anti-socialist.

11. During this debate, there was sharp criticism of the conditions formed against the Popular front if the communists and local communists will not support the Popular front in a unit and the result would be very divided and that the CGT was not maintaining a sufficiently independent and oppositional attitude.

12. In discussing relations of the socialist party with resistance groups, M. Soldani, member of the Bureau Central of the party for the Far and center of the SN, expressed his deep regret over the fact that full fusion between the socialist party and the SN was still impossible. He said he had hoped this fusion of the two wings of the SN with the best elements of the socialist party would constitute a great revolutionary socialist party of the future. During the debate on the subject, he told reporters without explosive exception to an interview by M. Rocard, political factor of the Bureau Directeur of the party, that the leaders of the SN were simply a group of aristocrats who were trying to take advantage of the alteration of state political power.

13. As for foreign policy, the Congress expressed itself as opposed to the hegemony of any one great power, whether it be Britain, the United States or Russia, and in favor of a system of collective security, with all the democratic nations of the world equally represented in an international association of nations. This association should have its own army, credit, transport, etc., in order to be able to guarantee the peace. Regarding the treatment of Germany, the CGT urged its opposition to any dismemberment of the country, but approved a long occupation with a severe allied control of all German industry and commerce and a long-range program for the reeducation of German youth.

14. Communist Party: According to Fr. Rotherick, secretary of the Paris section of the Communist Party, the Communists claim to have 4,000 registered members in the SN. Communist leaders interviewed declined to quote any figures.

15. M. Rotherick, prominent Communist member of SN, maintains that the Communists have gained many new followers in the SN since the war, at the expense of the Socialists. He claims that this results to a large extent from the Communists' nationalist policy and also from their young, vigorous leaders, as compared with the Socialists who will have the more leaders representing the old regime. He stated that the policy of the Communist Party would remain nationalist in the future; that it would be difficult to return to a revolutionary program.

16. Rotherick asserted that the Communists get along better with the Christian Democrats than with the Socialists, since the latter - as he put it - placed party interests above the national interest.

17. The Communists are opposed to the holding of elections next February. Their reasoning, ostensibly follows: the elections were scheduled before the recognition of the Provisional Government by the Allies as a means of holding a popular referendum and later showing the Allies that De Gaulle and the country still had him. Now that the Allies have recognized the De Gaulle government, the pressing need for legitimate elections no longer exists. Besides, it would be unfair for the return of the three million prisoners and deportees before proceeding to the polls. According to M. Rotherick, however, the real reason the Communists are opposed to the elections is their fear of losing some of the strength which they now hold on the various depart-rental and living interpretation committee. Unconsciously, Mr. Arigis has also indicated his personal opposition to the holding of elections at the present time, since the Mornac vote constituted an experiment and he was not in favor of conducting such experiments while France was still at war. (Arigis may well feel that to have elections now would risk a loss of strength for the Republicans as far as the Communists, Altimano alleged, Communist municipalities stated flatly that they believed the elections should be postponed, although the party is taking its place so as to have everything in readiness in case the elections are held in February.)

18. Both Altimano and Pothier criticized the prefect of the Var, Mr. Sevin, for not being vigorous enough in his handling of the affairs of the department, particularly the procurement of adequate food supplies. Pothier gave Sevin credit for his personal courage and for his active participation in resistance activities but pointed out that he was formerly secretary of the young prefecture at Toulon and that he had not broken away from the old habits of the preceding government fonctionnaires.

19. Pothier described Admiral Lebedet, prefet maritime of Toulon, as a reactionary of the old tradition - along with the great majority of higher rated officers at the Toulon naval base,

20. According to Altimano, the Toulon edition of Leuguy-Idi, the "radical" paper published in Marseille, has a daily circulation of 15,000 and a Sunday circulation of 15,000.

21. Mouvement Ouvrier Populaire: The Toulon section of the MOP was formed about two months ago. The officers are: Mr. Labrousse, president; Mr. Jouzain, attorney, secretary; Mr. Cucquier, sector as the Naval Arsenal, treasurer. A departmental federation of the MOP is in the process of organization; Labrousse hopes to have it organized before the end of the year. Altimano claims a membership in the Toulon section of 1,000 - but this appears to be an exaggeration. Labrousse stated that the Toulon edition of the Christian Democrat newspaper, Le Progrès, published at Marseille, has a local circulation of 2,000. This Toulon edition was started last week.

22. The Union Feminine Civique et Sociale (UFC) is the women's adjunct of the RPF at Toulon. As in Paris, the RPF in Toulon is making serious efforts to capture the women's vote. A series of three free weekly political lectures, starting 13 December 1946 has been organized by the UFC.

23. Radical-Socialist Party: It is universally stated that the Radical-Socialists are practically absent as a political force in the Var. No party head quarters has been established in Toulon, and aside from the brief news-paper announcement, no sign of any radical-socialist activity was discovered.

24. M. Arigis and Mr. Pothier, of the RPF, are optimistic over the possibility of fusion between the RPF and the SF in the Var region after the agreement just reached between the two groups in the department of the Gard. On the other hand, Arigis, of the RPF, points out that many members of his organization are hesitant about uniting with the SF, because they see in this an attempt on behalf of the CP to absorb the VIN. However, he stated his discussions are still continuing between the two groups. Mairia asserted that although many members of the VIN are not communists, all the positions of responsibility in their organization are held by communists.

25. Mairia, according to the Second, representative of the CP on the CGT, there were 35,000 registered members of the CGT in the U.S. on 1 October 1947, and a maximum of 24,000 members in 1957. Brionne considers one of the most urgent problems before the CGT is to see how to meet the stabilization of salaries. Two workers are regularly paid higher in comparison to the salaries of equally skilled workers in other trades. This situation of disparity was created by the officials who paid very well in order to attract labor to certain highly trifactory jobs, for example, workers in the building trades averaging up to 31 francs per hour, while textile workers and farm workers earn only 12 francs per hour. Brionne points out that it is not possible to raise all salaries to the highest levels established by the CGT, since this would cause an inflationary trend. Therefore, the CGT was faced with the delicate task of working at the same time for the reduction -- to a certain extent -- of some salaries and the raising of others.

Political and Military Units

26. French Republican Guards and Border Guards now form the Forces de l'ordre. They have a total strength of 3,000 officers and men in the U.S. under the command of Lt. Colonel (F.C.) Barrat. Their headquarters are at Chateaux, about 7 km. west of Paris, at the Chateau d'Argenteuil, a requisitioned private estate formerly occupied by the Vichyites.¹ (Grouped Mobile de l'ordre).

27. The two companies under Barrat form part of the RS of the 15th Military Region (Vosges, Hautes Alpes, Basses Alpes, Alps Maritime). Both Haubourdin, for example, by regional commissioners selected and placed under the command of General Villot. The RS are not officially paid militia, working under the prefect in each department of the 15th Military Region, with the principal task of combatting partisans, collaborationists and black marketeers and of maintaining order. In the U.S. the RS has the additional task of guarding the 15th political prisoners at the camp of Rambouillet, members of the U.S. in the U.S. are all former F.F.T. The men are paid 2.00 francs monthly; officers and non-commissioned officers receive regular army pay.

28. Barrat stated that his forces is short of arms and equipment for its men. There is a difference for only 10 percent of his men, and these total arms consist of 1000 rifles plus 100 light machine guns. Barrat pointed out that it would require a great deal for the discipline of his men if they could all be properly armed and equipped. He hastened to add that in spite of circumstances, discipline was good. An inspection tour of the quarters, however, revealed a rather mediocre discipline; the men lacked the military atmosphere and bearing of trained soldiers. German soldiers working on the premises were more prompt than the members of the RS to give to attention or salute at the approach of Lt. Colonel Barrat.

29. Barrat stated that he had seen documents and on expectations against the

CONFIDENTIAL

29. It was stated that he had made arrangements with an ex-officer against the present dictator, elements of which have been reported in various publications in the U.S. but so far without credence. The U.S. was not "inadequate" (sic) in its strategy, according to the U.S., because that has been calculating in civilian clothes in order to help plan out the Black market. Thus far, the French have made no contact with the U.S. for all differences.

30. Bonnaud, who was formerly departmental chief of the Ministry of Transportation, and who is still a member of the departmental committee of the Underground Resistance, General Transportation, claims a deposit for the U.S. in the sum of $1,000. Bonnaud stated the sums of the U.S. were the same as those of the U.S. but that the former were quarantine civilians detained until their quarantine to their task.

31. U.S. According to it, displaced persons, and the repatriating U.S. of the French are located in the peri-urban districts at Toulon, under the command of Colonel (1st) Gallot. This unit consists of about 3,000 men, and is preparing to leave shortly for the front to join the Free French Army. In Toulon, there are 12 members of General Transportation U.S. According to one of the members, the French have a total membership of 100.

Transoceanic Relations:

32. American sailors stationed in Toulon report a number of epope flights and exchanges between themselves and Frenchmen, principally over women. The feeling is widely general among American sailors at Toulon that the French would overtake an American at every opportunity possible.

33. On their side, the French are, to a greater or lesser degree, resentful over the American bombing of Toulon, which destroyed a large part of the city; over the French treatment of German Waffen SS; and over the fact that American food supplies to the civilian population have not arrived in greatest quantities, but rather (in Cavaillon, recent U.S.) return of the last war and requisitioned for over two years during this one) recycled bitterly that American soldiers had sold cigarettes, rations and soap at high black market prices and had not given anything away, contrary to what was expected of them. Cigarettes were sold at 50 to 100 francs a pack; soap at 50 francs a bar.

34. Mr. Poirier, Communist member of the U.S. and U.S. depute of La Liberte du Peop, stated that he believed a general feeling that several leading French leaders to Toulon, including deputies with the French Government even after his recall; that Washington was not pleased with the de Gaulle government and would never permit it to stand or a Government to be installed; that a report was circulating in French newspaper circles to the effect that there was before the liberation of Toulon various diplomatic representatives had penetrated into the city and had discussed with French officials the possibility of setting up a new French Government replacing the de Gaulle Government.

35. Pecker also stated that no people were no longer staying in the village but rather, to join with the decision of the Government to disperse the French Civilian Population. In this connection, he stated that the GDR and the FRC "had great necessity," when they spoke had no confidence in the loyalty of the people who had served the Vichy regime.

Socialistic situation

36. Supply destruction. Toulon has suffered heavily from allied bombing. The fortification was particularly hard hit, but a good deal of destruction has caused in the center of town as well, according to the municipal bureau of Reconstruction, of a total of 16,311 houses in Toulon, 999 were entirely destroyed, 1,211 were then by partial destroyed and 3,891 more suffered damage. Since it is extremely difficult to erect building material, it is very rare, houses which burn out vertically due to intense fire, especially from the effects of the weather. Many people are homeless and temporarily living with friends and relatives, in makeshift quarters; a large number have not yet returned to Toulon from the interior, where they had sought refuge during the bombing. Toulon's normal population is of 160,000 and escaped to 50,000 at the end of August; it had risen to about 250,000 by the end of October, and to an estimated 210,000.

37. The municipal supplies falls reconstruction estimates needs of building materials for repair as follows:

- 0,300 tons of tile shingles for roofing
- 3,000 tons of bricks
- 5,000 tons of plaster
- 1,000 tons of cement
- 1,000 tons of lime

200,000 square meters of shingle roofs.
Temporary roofing repair are being made with used planks.

38. Food conditions in Toulon are bad, the most serious shortages being milk for children, and fats and oils. There is only enough meat to prevent die-trial death to infants up to 9 months. According to Dr. Miserere, in order to provide milk for the 1,677 children of 0-12 months, 600 cans of condensed milk would be required daily. Another 300 cans daily would be needed for the 1,500 children 12 months - 3 years of age. An urgent expression the urgency of this problem. Dr. Miserere also noted that 17 physicians with him belonged to Touler, 16 of whom directly to the municipality for distribution, instead of to the Red Cross. He claims that on previous occasions the American relief was distributed through the French Red Cross, which of it found the way into the hands of speculators and never reached the children for whom it was intended.)

39. Besides the fact that the war is an important producer of olive oil, there is a serious shortage of this product on the market. According to ALDO, Mr. Mandelbaum, in charge of 140 milligrams, whatever stocks of olive oil do exist in the region are blocked by the Ministère de l'Intérieur kept for distribution abroad from France. This is a source of discontent among the people.

However, a distribution of the oil on all the raw materials used, and with the size of particles it is expected that the result will improve by the end of the year. At present, olive oil, soya oil and sunflower oil are the basic materials, but as is well known, even among plant oils, such as palm, it is said for industrial purposes, there is little to show superiority.

40. The overall result of the group's study in generally considered satisfactory by the vast majority of about 300 people likely to feel it to be a sustainable improvement over the 90+ per cent decline received during the colonisation. However, people seemed to expect a more immediate and greater improvement in the food situation with the closing of the mines than actually took place.

41. Public Services: Electricity, gas and water supply are normal. The streets are partially lit at night. Public services are functioning in Coulon and its suburbs. There is one ambulance available, and one internal daily flight connecting with the Montevideo-Buenos Aires.

Reported Replacement of "Front National" by a New Paper

The following report is from a member of the staff of "Front National" and is a close friend of Thorez. This information was disclosed directly to a well-tried source, who has extensive contacts in French press circles!

1. It appears improbable that "Front National" will continue to be published after the elections, because of the breaking down of this political formation, which is of no further interest - except perhaps a marginal one - to the Communist Party. However, until now, Thorez has been opposed to its disappearance.

2. At present the leaders of the CP are planning to replace it by a more effective organ, and are studying three possible solutions:

(a) A newspaper which might be called "Ce Matin", and which would be supplementary to "Ce Soir" which would be responsible for its publication. The directors of "Ce Soir", which is a successful paper, are opposed to this idea, because they do not see the necessity for placing an additional load on the budget.

(b) A paper exclusively for women and which would treat all questions interesting to women: the home, the factory, food, the child, clothing, education, etc. But it is wondered if women have not adopted the habit of reading their husbands' paper, and would not be reluctant to indulge in the expense of an extra paper.

(c) An evening paper which would sell for 3 fr., and which would be similar to "Le Monde" in form, and would be the leftist opposite number of that paper. This paper would be destined particularly for the elite, and would stress cultural matters, accurate documentation, etc. The difficulty lies in assembling a first rate editorial staff to handle the political, economic, financial and artistic departments of such a paper.

3. It appears likely that a decision will be reached before the end of May.

Although this report is based principally on information received from HOMOHDRAL, the chief facts have been confirmed by HOMESTRETCH and HOMOCHE. Much of the information, especially the excerpts from CADI reports, was taken from the original CADI documents which HOMOHDRAL lifted from the CADI files. (One of HOMOHDRAL's sub-agents got the char-woman who cleans the CADI offices to lift a few reports each night for a period of a week.) The Italian immigrant sent by this station to the CADI office is Ettore GUIDETTI.

Subject: Comite D'Action et de Defense des Immigres

Report #: WPA-538

Date of Information: See below

1. The Comite d'Action et de Defense des Immigres (CADI) was organized at Paris in November 1944 and operated overtly until ordered dissolved as a subversive group by a decree of the Ministry of the Interior in December 1948.

2. The principal organizations which joined to form CADI are as follows:

Parti Communiste Francais
Confederation Generale du Travail Conseil National de la Resistance Front National Union des Femmes Francaises
Union des Patriotes Soviétiques
Comite Italien de la Liberation
Comite d'Unite de la Defense Juive
Union National de la Colonie Tchecos-Slovaque en France
Union Democratique des Hongrois en France
Aide a la Patrie Polonais
Front National Armenien
Italia Libera
Front National Roumain
Union de la Jeunesse Republicaine de France
Union Nationale Espagnole en France
Federation des Espagnols Resident en France

3. As the name CADI implies, the organization was formed to aid foreign immigrants in France. It was not ostensibly founded as a political organization, nor was it ostensibly designed to support any particular political party. Its apparent purpose was rather to give social and legal aid to any and all immigrants in France. Its social program was quite simple and was largely devoted to the distribution of food, clothing, shelter, and money to needy immigrants. Its legal program was two-fold: first, it offered legal assistance to the individual immigrants through its lawyers; and secondly, it sponsored a series of measures in the Chamber of Deputies which were designed to benefit the status of all immigrants.

4. The measures which CADB sponsored were officially known as the "résolutions pour la promulgation d'un Statut Juridique des Immigrés", and demanded the following benefits for the immigrants:

- a. That "Cartes de résidents privilégiés" be granted to all immigrants, without exception, after three years residence in France.

- b. That immigrants be allowed to choose their place and type of employment.

- c. That immigrants be granted all the social benefits to which a French citizen is entitled.

- d. That expulsion from France be made dependent on a court order, rather than on a decree of the Ministry of the Interior.

5. CADB sponsored the above measures for all immigrants. For those certain immigrants who had volunteered for service in an Allied army, or had taken part in the Resistance, or had been deported to Germany, CADB made the following demands:

- a. That naturalization be granted by judges of the peace upon simple proof of the immigrant's claim to be in one of the above categories, and that all other naturalization requirements be waived.

- b. That all invalids, deportees, and widows of men of this category be entitled to the same social benefits as French citizens of similar classification.

- c. That the term "Mort pour la France" be added to the titles of the deceased of all immigrants of this category.

6. For those immigrants of the above category (para 5) who preferred to maintain their original citizenship, CADB demanded:

- a. That they be allowed to choose their place and kind of work and that they be permitted to change their profession whenever they so desired.

- b. That they receive all social benefits granted to French citizens.

- c. That all "administrative measures resulting from their antifascist activity before and during the War be annulled." (Field comment: This is a direct translation from the French and refers to any legal actions taken against immigrants who, as Communists, refused to obey the orders of the French government between September 1939 and the German attack on Russia.)

7. CADI was largely successful in realising its demands, for the Statute of Immigrants which was passed by the Consultative Assembly (the Statute was composed of the ordonnance of 24 March 1948, the ordonnance of 2 November 1949, the ordonnance of 19 October 1948, the ordonnance of 28 October 1948, and the decree of 25 December 1948) gave to immigrants an equality of rights approximate to those enjoyed by a French citizen. The most active supporter of the CADI measures in the Consultative Assembly in 1948 was Hadelaine BRAUW, prominent Communist and one of the leaders of the PCF's National. The Communist Party and the CGT also heavily backed these measures.

8. Paragraphs 4 through 6 represent CADI's original program; it was overt; it was designed to benefit all immigrants, and it was supposedly non-political. To implement its program, CADI established branch offices throughout France in the cities which had large numbers of immigrants. These branch offices were known as Centres d'Action de Defense des Immigrés. CADI also took the lead in organizing the annual National Congress of Immigrants (Congrès National des Immigrés), the first one of which was held in Paris on 25 January 1948. M. AFRACHA, representative of the Ministry of Industrial Production presided. In 1949, CADI again sponsored the congress, now called the International Congress of Immigrants in France (Congrès International des Immigrés en France), which took place in Paris 18 February to 17 February. Some 15,000 delegates, representing 3 million immigrants of all nationalities, attended. Justin GODARD, president of CADI, made the principal speech. Louis BAILLANT, secretary-general of the CGT and president of the CNI, was a member of the sponsoring committee and sat on the speakers' platform. The sponsors' committee for the 1947 Congress which was also held at Paris in February, consisted of Justin GODARD, Louis BAILLANT, Jacques POULOIS, Albert RAYET (delegate of the Ligue des Droits de l'Homme), Hadelaine BRAUW, and Joseph LIGUET (lawyer for the Lettre Française in the FRANCHE-MONTAINE).

9. Although the ostensible and apparent purpose and activities of CADI were those outlined in paragraphs 8 to 6th, its true purpose and its clandestine activities were quite different. CADI was not the non-political organization that it professed to be, but was in fact a tightly controlled Communist organization. To be sure, the legislative measures it supported benefited all immigrants, but they were designed primarily to help Communist immigrants. Similarly, CADI's program of aid to immigrants was restricted solely to Communist or pro-Communist immigrants. The true purpose of CADI was to aid Communist and pro-Communist immigrants to enter France; to aid them in establishing themselves in France; to place them in industries, mining, and agriculture; to organize them into faithful followers of the Communist Party; and finally to control them.

10. In order to realize its true purpose, CADI embarked on a clandestine program which may be divided into three major parts: the supplying of certain necessary identification papers, to illegal Communist immigrants, the placing of these immigrants in certain jobs, and the organizing of these particular immigrants, along with all the foreign laborers in France, into submissive groups which would follow the orders of the CGT and the Communist Party.

11. Evidence of this first activity is found in the CADI office in Marseille. This office is currently operating a program whereby any avowed Communist immigrant coming to the office is furnished a "carte de travailleur étranger", given a job in industry or agriculture, and, for the sum of 5,000 francs, is furnished with a naturalization decree.

12. (Field Comment:

Having heard from two sources that CADI was operating such a program, this station sent on 10 March 1949 one of our sub-agents, an Italian immigrant who had entered France clandestinely, to the Marseille CADI, at 8 Place de la Prefecture, to ascertain if these reports were true. At CADI our sub-agent was received by Georges LINIVER. Our sub-agent then presented himself as an Italian immigrant who entered France clandestinely and asked that he be given a "carte de travailleur étranger". LINIVER asked our sub-agent who had sent him to CADI, to which the sub-agent replied, "I am a Communist." LINIVER asked to see the sub-agent's Party card, and the latter showed it to him. LINIVER then asked the sub-agent if he had a job in France, to which the sub-agent replied in the negative. LINIVER told the sub-agent to return in two weeks at which time he would give him an "autorisation de séjour", and in three weeks, he would provide him with a "carte de travailleur étranger". LINIVER also promised to give our sub-agent an agricultural job in Sète (Hérault). Finally, LINIVER told our sub-agent that for 5,000 francs he would provide him with naturalization papers. Our sub-agent replied that he wanted such papers, but that he would first have to acquire the money. The interview ended with both men raising their fists in the Communist salute.

13. From questioning our sub-agent, it appears that the papers CADI furnishes are genuine papers which they obtain through the connivance of certain individuals in the Marseille Prefecture.

The sub-agent's sister unfortunately died in Paris on 12 March. The sub-agent then left immediately for Paris and has not yet returned. Upon his return to Marseille, this station will send him back to CADIS to claim his "carte de séjour" and "carte de travailleur étranger". We will also give him 3,000 francs with which to acquire his naturalization papers and we will direct him to accept the preferred job in Sets.)

14. Additional evidence that CADIS is engaged in supplying these papers is found in the fact that on the 24, 25, and 26 of January 1949 four foreigners presented themselves at the office of the "Confédération Générale des Internés et Déportés Politiques de la Résistance et des Victimes de l'Oppression Nazis et du Nazisme" where, thinking they were at the CADIS office, they asked that they be given "cartes de séjour". These men were:

✓ HILLER, Robert - born in Baden, Germany
✓ JACOBSSON, Carl - born in Hamburg, Germany
✓ GEORGES, Mories - born in Szekelyszentkerely, Hungary
✓ LASZLO, Alexandre - born in Marosvásárhely, Hungary

These four had entered France clandestinely and each had been told before leaving his own country to apply to CADIS for his French papers.

15. The following excerpts from CADIS reports indicate CADIS's activity in placing immigrants in industries and in agriculture.

a. "The Poles sent by CADIS into the iron and coal mines number 40,000. In addition CADIS has placed 50,000 Polish agricultural workers in France." (Field comment: From a report by LOUKA, delegate of the Conseil National Polonais en France.)

b. "In the large chemical and metallurgical factories of Marseille one-third of the employees are immigrants. In the Acieries du Nord, 340 workers are foreigners; the Cotel Plant, 400 workers are immigrants. CADIS has placed many of these men and will continue to place as many again." (Field comment: From a report of Guido ZAMIS, CADIS secretary in Marseille.)

c. "There are 3,800 foreigners in the coal mines at Carmaux-les-Mines. CADIS has placed 80% of these men." (Field comment: From a report of the CADIS representative for the TARN department.)

16. The following excerpts from CADI documents indicate CADI's activity in organising the immigrant laborers into submissive groups ready to follow CADI-COT-Communist orders:

a. "It is necessary that CADI take the lead in organising these foreign laborers in strong and democratic unions. We must protect them from their capitalist oppressors and we must aid them in their struggle against their employers. In CADI and in the COT, the immigrant finds his strength." (Field comment: From a report by Louis PETIT, one of the organisers and national leaders of CADI.)

b. "It is through CADI that the immigrant masses are able to mobilise for the tasks which lie before the whole country. It is CADI which must educate the immigrants in the ways of true democracy and it is for CADI to lead them in their struggle." (Field comment: From a report of LAROCHE, secretary-general of CADI.)

c. "Before the war, the countries from which these immigrants came were under the control of Fascist and reactionary regimes. The immigrants left their homes without hope of returning. Now things have changed; the countries from which they came are today true democracies and they now have the problem of helping those of their former citizens who are now living outside their borders. It is CADI who, working with these democratic governments, is attempting to obtain the rights of liberty and democracy for these immigrants now in France." (Field comment: From a letter written by Louis PETIT.)

d. "We are proud to be from a region where the majority are immigrants, the immigrants who organized the great strike of 100,000 workers during the occupation under the leadership of Auguste LEGRAND. In those times, all orders were executed clandestinely, and we will execute them today with the same enthusiasm. CADI must lead the way." (Field comment: From a speech by the CADI secretary in the Pas-de-Calais.)

e. "The control of the recruiting of immigrant workers must be done in a forcible manner by CADI and the French workers' unions. We must prevent the immigrant worker from becoming a tool in the hands of the capitalists." (Field comment: From a speech by GIOVETTI, (fnu), delegate of Italia Libera.)

17. Further evidence of CADI's activity in organising the immigrant workers is found in CADI files. - Report after report from various CADI delegates throughout France lists by nationality the number of immigrant in their areas, and in addition many of the reports note the number of these immigrants who are under CADI control. These reports are all similar, and it is sufficient to quote from one: "More than 80% of the miners in the Loire basin are immigrants; of these, the following percentages adhere to CADI: 98% of the Poles, all the Yugoslavs, 80% of the Portuguese, 60% of the Italians, and 75% of the Hungarians." (Field comment: From a report by CADI secretary from the Loire.)

18. Although supposedly dissolved by Ministerial decree in December 1948, CADI continues to operate clandestinely throughout France. Its present national president is Justin GODARD, former minister; FRYDMAN, (fmu), a member of the Comite d'Unité de la Defense Juive, is vice-president; LAROCHE, (fmu), is secretary-general. National headquarters are located at 102 rue de l'Université, Paris. The principal organizations supporting CADI today are those listed in paragraph 9, except for those of these organizations which have ceased to exist.

19. CADI functions in conjunction with these organizations, and in addition it has its own delegates scattered throughout France in the industrial and mining regions. Among the CADI delegates are the following:

MORCADO - delegate of the Federation des Espagnols Résidant en France
LOUKA - delegate of the Conseil National Polonois en France
GIOVBTEI - delegate of Italia Libra
KOYACS, Muranyi - secretary-general of the Union

(Field comment: It is realized that some of the organizations of which these men are listed as delegates have been dissolved, notably Italia Libra and the Front National Armenien. However, the names of the individuals and their affiliations are shown exactly as they appeared on CADI documents.)

80. CADI is well-financed. Its principal financial support comes from the Communist Party and the COF. (Field comment: CADI documents acknowledge unspecified contributions from these organizations. One of source's informants, the chief of the Foreigners' Section of the Marseille Prefecture, has stated that he knows the Marseille CADI has an undetermined quantity of rubles, presumably received from the Communist Party.)

81. In Marseille, the CADI office was established by Guido ZAMIS and George LINIVER in March 1948. It was originally located on the Blvd. du Ruy, but in September 1947 it transferred to 3 Marche des Capucins. In February 1948 it moved to 97 rue Longue des Capucins and then, after it was ordered dissolved, it continued to function clandestinely at 2 Place de la Prefecture, where it remains today. ZAMIS remains the director of the Local CADI, assisted by LINIVER.

SUBJECT: GENERAL Transmittal specific: List of Allied Communist dominated organizations

1. Attached is a copy of a list given to Leon H. Sherman recently by Jack West, Legal Attache. The attachment was originally given to West by Keith Angell, Security Office, ECA-OSI, Paris. Mr. Angell advised that he had received this list from a source in the Prefecture of Police, Paris, and that it is based upon information in Prefecture files and investigation by that agency.

2. It will be noted that this list is apparently of quite recent date in that these international organizations recently expelled from France (IPDN, WFDS, WFTU) are noted as "dissolved".

3. Mr. West also transmitted a copy of this list to Mr. William Crawford [REDACTED]
